Black Hands in the Biscuits

Not in the Classrooms: Unveiling Hope in a Struggle for Brown's Promise (Counterpoints: Studies in the Postmodern Theory of Education) Sherick A. Hughes

From «Nigger, Nigger, Black as Tar, Won't Go to Heaven in a Motor Car» to «They're Not Ready Yet,» this book breathes life into an often-abandoned, rural Black family story. This book illuminates a struggle and hope for education in Southern desegregated grade schools and illustrates school experiences from multiple generations within three Black families as it introduces Black family pedagogy «of roots and wings» - keys to survival and success at a crossroads of law, tradition, and transition. Black Hands in the Biscuits Not in the Classrooms is a must read for lifelong students of education, sociology, public policy, and history.
