Twelve new chapters and updated material throughout this edition provide a wealth of information on the most current and cutting-edge ideas in nursing theory today.

- An extensive bibliography at the end of each theorist chapter outlines numerous primary and secondary sources of information for further research.

Hainsworth: Theory of Chronic Sorrow; Pamela G. Reed: Self-Transcendence Theory; Cornelia M. Ruland and Shirley M. Moore: Peaceful End of Life Theory; Kristen M. - Each theorist chapter contains a brief summary that condenses the comprehensive discussion of the theorist's work.
- A case study at the end of each theorist chapter puts the theory into a larger perspective, demonstrating a way in which the information can be applied to practice.
- Eleven theorists have been combined into a single new chapter - Nursing Theorists of Historical Significance - that better reflects the ways in which the individuals' ideas are used today.
- A number of chapters, including several of the new chapters, feature international theorists and/or international chapter authors to provide a more diverse, global perspective of nursing.
- Dates of the theorists' birth (and death, if applicable) have been added to the chapter openers to provide a historical context for their work.
